SECTION III

Aircraft strength of the organization:

a. 15 tactical B-26
b. 1 non-tactical B-26 (Tow Target Ship)

SECTION IV

Type of equipment used:

This organization has no other equipment than authorized under the T.O. for a tactical light bombardment squadron.

SECTION V

Summary of Operations

a. The squadron continued during the current month to fulfill its mission in Japan. That is, maintaining a combat ready organization concurrently with fulfilling commitments of occupational duties.

b. In striving for 100% combat readiness the available aircraft were used in maintaining the instrument and night proficiency of combat ready air crews and transition training of newly assigned personnel

SECTION VI

Summary of training progress:

a. The present stress placed on OJT is being given priority in the squadron to help offset losses of personnel that have no qualified replacements.

(1) Capt Dysart, Engineering Officer, has an aggressive training program in progress training former gunners for the skilled MOS of 745 (Engineer Gunner) and expressed satisfaction with their progress despite the work load that seems never ending on the Engineering Section.

b. Ground Training has suffered somewhat due to the squadron working 4,6 day weeks the current month with Supply and Engineering sections working all night on many occasions.

c. Navigators in the squadron are continuing the refresher course with personnel being scheduled as available for Bombardier Navigator training for qualification of a 1036 MOS.

SECTION VII

Specific problems:

a. Of the present major problems Engineering again takes first place with the section being 22 men under T.O. strength and being further stressed by 7 men presently attending Specialist Schools. During the period covered 52 T.O. Compliances were competed leaving a total of 80 which will be complied with as parts become available.

b. The Armament Section had no major problems except the lack of available operational aircraft for continuation training of combat ready gunners.

c. Operations Section had no problems for the period other than the availability of aircraft for training.

SECTION VIII

Additional duties:

The squadron continued to keep 1 aircraft and crew at Misawa for the purpose of flying classified missions.

SECTION IX

Recreational activities:

There is at present a drive to enlist all personnel in voluntary sports competition. At present the inter-squadron Volley-ball is being set up and the basketball season is being brought to a successful close.

SECTION X

RESTRICTED

Type of equipment used:

This organization has no other equipment than authorized under the T.O. for a tactical light bombardment squadron.

SECTION V

Summary of operations:

a. The 8th Squadron continues toward its goal of maintaining 100% combat personnel and equipment in addition to its normal commitments to the occupation of Japan.

b. The squadron, through the current month has continued to operate as a part of the 3rd Bomb Group despite rumors prevalent through out the period indicating separate squadron field manuevers.

SECTION VI

Summary of training progress:

a. The concentrated effort to meet training requirments set up by USAF and lower echelons and the facilities available on the base has enabled the 8th to reach and all time occupational high in meeting the Ground Training minimums.

b. Meeting the commitments of Engineer Training Schools has placed temporarily an increased work load on remaining personnel in that section.

SECTION VII

Specific problems:

a. The Administrative Section is concerned with their problem of submitting the neccessary paper work and maintaining records while simultaneously training personnel.

b. All sections voiced their protest over shortages in qualified 405's. The extensive OJT program is getting increased emphasis in all fields but is unable to cope with loss of skilled personnel returning to th Z.I.

SECTION VIII

Additional duties:

The squadron has undertaken no additional duties other than 1 aircraft and crew stationed at Misawa AFB, APO 919 on a weekly basis for the purpose of conducting classified missions.

Recreational activities:

a. The Inter-squadron softball team now, in the process of acquiring new uniforms and under the guidance of 1st Lt Raymond J. Cyborski, shortstop for the 1948 All Japan Softball Team, should end the season second to none.

b. And active interest by the Airmen of the squadron is being shown in improving the facilities and conditions of the squadron Day Room.

SECTION X

Special projects:

a. Led by Major Price and aided by close cooperation between sections and the Airmen of the squadron, the squadron was selected as the Squadron of the Month. Factors considered in making the selection that gave the 8th special recognition were:

(1) Athletic participation
(2) Personal commendation awarded Sgt Adsit for outstanding achievment in Engineering School.
(3) A negative V.D. record.
(4) A marked decrease in Disciplinary Reports.
(5) All reports on time and accurate.
(6) Selection of the squadron for first place in the Formal Review held the 26 March 1949.

b. S/Sgt Dean D. Johnson was selected as Squadron Airman of the Month and place second for Wing Airman of the Month by a close margin.

SECTION XI

THIS PAGE DECLASSIFIED IAW EO12958

SECTION VI

Summary of Training Progress:

a. The Squadron continued during the month to schedule Navigators for refresher training and has placed all Bombardiers on TDY to the Bombardier Refresher Training School at Yokota in compliance with 5th AF directive.

b. Intelligence and emergency equipment training is carried on Wednesday morning on a weekly basis for all elegible personnel.

SECTION VII

Specific Problems:

a. Shortage of qualified personnel in all fields again was the direct cause of most problems submitted by various sections.

b. The Squadron will adopt dock maintenance in the Engineering Section thereby keeping the most experienced personnel in the hangar and by doing so hopes to cope with existing shortages in experience.

SECTION VIII

Additional Duties:

The Squadron continued to keep 1 B-26 and crew at Misawa AFB in compliance with 5th AF directives on similar missions.

SECTION IX

Recreational Activities:

a. The intra-Squadron softball tournament is well under way with the 8th Bomb Sq. among the top 3 in win standings.

NARRATIVE--RESTRICTED
COMMENT---CONFIDENTIAL

Narrative On Missions As Outlined By A.D. TFO 13 & 14

On 26 April at 1100, 9 B-26's, equipped with necessary maintenance facilities for 3 days operation. Departed Yokota under leadership of Major Joseph Bird and arrived at Komaki without incident. Refueling was accomplished and messing facilities were available. The Squadron was assigned an operations building, engineering and personal Equipment facilities and became operational as a unit as soon as refueled.

Billets were provided on the base for the 9 Pilots and 2 Navigators and quarters were arranged through the Hospital Building in Nagoya for 23 Airmen including 9 Engineer Gunners, 9 Crew Chiefs, 1 Line Chief, 1 Intelligence Technician, 1 Personal Equipment man, 1 Supply man, and 3 Communications men.

On the afternoon of the 26th, Operations was set up and minor maintenance on A/C was performed. Transportation to Nagoya was provided for Airmen at 16:00.

On 27 April briefing was held at 0700 for shipping strike scheduled Par 3A TFO 100, Hq., 3d Bomb Group (L), but both sorties for the 27th were cancelled due to adverse weather.

On the 28th April, briefing was held at 0500 for the mission as directed in Par 3C and 2 B-26's departed at 0600 on a shipping reconnaissance flight up the west coast of Honshu. Negative IFF was carried and the flight flew 60% of the mission before turning back because of low ceilings in the Sado-Shima area. The airfield of Komatsu was hit on return to base. Lead ship 4339 had a flat nose tire on landing but no damage resulted. The second sortie took of at 1300, but was unable to leave the local area due to weather.

At 1400 on the 28th a Pre-briefing was held in conjunction with the 7th Fighter Squadron from Misawa and concluded operations for the day.

On 29th April, briefing was held at 0700 and take-off at 0800 was accomplished by 9 B-26's followed by the F-51's of the 7th Fighter Squadron. The Flight proceeded North to the West coast and flew to a point approximately 120 miles west of South Hokaido at 1,000 feet then escorted by the F-51's climbed to 5,000 Feet and turned toward Esashi. On making landfall cloud build ups and lowering ceilings necessitated a turn to the south through the straights and then west to the northern tip of Honshu then back to heading of 180 deg at 4000 ft for a bomb run on Misawa. Approximately six (6) F-80's attacked three (3) minutes from target. Two (2) from 12 o'clock low, breaking upward in front of the formation of B-26(s then in a compact nine (9) ship box of V's, stacked down. The F-80's airspeed was low due to their having just taken off and the escort was credited with victory by the Squadron Leader.

The flight continued on toward the secondary target of Shiroi. The escort left the 8th at Morioka and returned to their base. The B-26's continued on to Sendai and after completing two (2) 360 deg turns and failing to find a suitable, above minimums route to continue, turned back to Misawa because of weather. The Squadron landed at Misawa at 1300 and refueled.

The Squadron arranged Billets and messing for Officers and Airmen and returned to Yokota at 1200 hours 30 April 1949.

COMMENT:

The mission was regarded as 100% successful as to Primary Target and it is felt if the B-26's were allowed to use the tactical attack procedure the target would have no more than three (3) minutes warning of attack.

Narrative On Missions As Outlined by A.O. TAC 13 & 14

On 26 April at 1100, 9 B-26's, equipped with necessary maintenance facilities for 3 days operation. Departed Yokota under leadership of Major Joseph Bird and arrived at Komaki without incident. Refueling was accomplished and messing facilities were available. The Squadron was assigned an operations building, engineering and personal equipment facilities and became operational as a unit as soon as refueled.

Billets were provided on the base for the 9 Pilots and 2 Navigators and quarters were arranged through the Hospital Building in Nagoya for 23 Airmen including 9 Engineer Gunners, 9 Crew Chiefs, 1 Line Chief, 1 Intelligence Technician, 1 Personal Equipment Man, 1 Supply Man, and 3 Communications men.

On the afternoon of the 26th, Operations was set up and minor maintenance on A/C was performed. Transportation to Nagoya was provided for Airmen at 16:00.

On 27 April briefing was held at 0700 for shipping strike scheduled for 3 A/C 100, Sq., 3d Bomb Group (L), but both sorties for the 27th were cancelled due to adverse weather.

On the 28th April, briefing was held at 0500 for the mission as directed in Par 3c and 2 B-26's departed at 0600 on a shipping reconnaissance flight up the west coast of Honshu. Negative 177 was carried and the flight flew 60% of the mission before turning back because of low ceilings in the Sado-Shima area. The airfield of Komatsu was hit on return to base. Lead ship 4339 had a flat nose tire on landing but no damage resulted. The second sortie took of at 1300, but was unable to leave the landlearea due to weather.

At 1400 on the 28th a Pre-briefing was held in conjunction with the 7th Fighter Squadron from Misawa and concluded operations for the day.

On 29th April, briefing was held at 0700 and take-off at 0800 was accomplished by 9 B-26's followed by the P-51's of the 7th Fighter Squadron. The flight proceeded North to the west coast and flew to a point approximately 120 miles west of South Hokaido at 1,000 feet then escorted by the P-51's climbed to 5,000 feet and turned toward Wakkanai. On making landfall cloud build ups and lowering ceilings necessitated a turn to the south through the straights and then west to the northern tip of Honshu then back to heading of 180 deg at 4000 ft for a bomb run on Misawa. Approximately six (6) P-80's attacked three (3) minutes from target. Two (2) from 12 o'clock low, breaking upward in front of the formation of B-26's then in a compact nine (9) ship box of V's, stacked down. The P-80's airspeed was low due to their having just taken off and the escort was credited with victory by the Squadron Leader.

The flight continued on toward the secondary target of Chiroi. The escort left the 8th at Morioka and returned to their base. The B-26's continued on to Sendai and after completing two (2) 360 deg turns and failing to find a suitable, above minimums route to continue, turned back to Misawa because of weather. The Squadron landed at Misawa at 1300 and refueled.

The Squadron arranged billets and messing for Officers and Airmen and returned to Yokota at 1200 hours 29 April 1949.

COMMENT:

The mission was regarded as 100% successful as to Primary Target and it is felt if the B-26's were allowed to use the tactical attack procedure the target would have no more than three (3) minutes warning of attack.

1. The initial competitive period of the 1949 Fifth Air Force Flying Safety Competition ended 31 March. During this period the 3d Bombardment Group, L, flew a total of 2, 175 hours without a major or minor aircraft accident to record ea zero accident rate and win the Twin Engine Flying Safety Award.

2. In winning this award, you and the officers and men of your command have demonstrated the results which can be obtained by energetic and efficient flying safety efforts. A continuation of the high standards which you have set for yourselves will be a material contribution toward our goal of reducing to the minimum, aircraft accidents within the Fifth Air Force.

3. It is my desire that you extend to all personnel of your command my personal congratulations on the outstanding record which has enabled the 3rd Bombardment Group to win this Flying Safety Award.

SUBJECT: Transmittal of Unit History

TO: Commanding General,
Headquarters, Fifth Air Force
APO 710

Transmitted herewith are documents pertaining to unit Activities of the 8th Bombardment Sq (L) for the month of June 1949. The Squadron in addition to occupational committments spent the first two weeks in accomplishing annual AF Regulation 60-2 requirements, con currently with preparing for forthcoming maneuvers scheduled for perid 15th thru 30 June. During the month the Squadron flew 483 hours thereby adding another successful month to our growing accident free record. Strike photos and other important documents and equipment were lost in the fire that occurred while on maneuvers. A wooden structure housing Operations, Personal Equipment, Communications, Weather Section, Armament, Provost Marshall Section, Special Services and Briefing Room caught fire in the early morning hours of 23 June 1949 and burned completely with all sections equipment lost. No personnel were injured. Photos not included in May's History were also destroyed.
